

“The Monster of the Mountain” “The Monster of the Mountain”

- (1st) Copy the definition,
(2nd) sample sentence and
(3rd) make your own sample sentence)

1. cascaded- Something that has cascaded, such as water, has fallen or poured down.

As the sink overflowed, water cascaded onto the floor.

2. documentation- Documentation is support of a claim with facts, usually by providing proof in writing.

The scientist hoped that careful documentation of experiment results would support her theory.

3. dynamic- Something that is dynamic is forceful or full of energy.

Because a tornado is so dynamic, it can quickly change course.

4. exerts- Exerts means “puts energy or power into doing something.”

Sunny weather often exerts a positive effect on a person’s mood.

5. plummeting Plummeting is the act of suddenly dropping or falling from a high place.

We watched the meteorites plummeting through the night sky.

6. scalding- A scalding liquid is extremely hot to touch.

You should let scalding soup cool before trying to eat it.

7. pulverize- If you pulverize something, you crush it into small pieces.

The chef needed to pulverize the spice into a fine powder.

8. shards- Shards are sharp, pointed pieces of glass, metal, pottery, rock, or other material.

The vase fell off the shelf and broke into many shards.

“The Monster of the Mountain”

- (1st) Copy the definition,
(2nd) sample sentence and
(3rd) make your own sample sentence)

1. cascaded- Something that has cascaded, such as water, has fallen or poured down.

As the sink overflowed, water cascaded onto the floor.

2. documentation- Documentation is support of a claim with facts, usually by providing proof in writing.

The scientist hoped that careful documentation of experiment results would support her theory.

3. dynamic- Something that is dynamic is forceful or full of energy.

Because a tornado is so dynamic, it can quickly change course.

4. exerts- Exerts means “puts energy or power into doing something.”

Sunny weather often exerts a positive effect on a person’s mood.

5. plummeting Plummeting is the act of suddenly dropping or falling from a high place.

We watched the meteorites plummeting through the night sky.

6. scalding- A scalding liquid is extremely hot to touch.

You should let scalding soup cool before trying to eat it.

7. pulverize- If you pulverize something, you crush it into small pieces.

The chef needed to pulverize the spice into a fine powder.

8. shards- Shards are sharp, pointed pieces of glass, metal, pottery, rock, or other material.

The vase fell off the shelf and broke into many shards.