

"The Case of the Magic Marker Mischief Maker"

- (1st) Copy the definition,
(2nd) sample sentence and
(3rd) make your own sample sentence)

1. benefactor- A benefactor is someone who gives a gift or donation in order to help others.

A wealthy benefactor gave the museum a large donation.

2. empathy- Empathy is the act of sharing and experiencing the thoughts and feelings of others because you understand them.

My dog died last year, so I have empathy for Deb's loss of her cat.

3. endeavor- An endeavor is a serious effort or attempt to do something challenging.

Jackie loves adventure, so her next endeavor will be climbing a mountain.

4. entail- Entail means "to include or involve as a necessary part or result of something."

Swimming the 200-meter race in less than two minutes would entail a lot of training.

5. extensive - Something that is extensive is great in size, amount, or degree.

The map shows the city's extensive network of streets.

6. indecision - Indecision is the inability to make a choice.

My indecision about what to wear makes me late some mornings.

7. Multitude means "a large amount of objects or people."

They saw a multitude of birds nearly covering the beach.

8. tentatively - Doing something tentatively means doing it with hesitation or uncertainty.

In case the water was too cold, she tested it tentatively with her toes.

"The Case of the Magic Marker Mischief Maker"

- (1st) Copy the definition,
(2nd) sample sentence and
(3rd) make your own sample sentence)

1. benefactor- A benefactor is someone who gives a gift or donation in order to help others.

A wealthy benefactor gave the museum a large donation.

2. empathy- Empathy is the act of sharing and experiencing the thoughts and feelings of others because you understand them.

My dog died last year, so I have empathy for Deb's loss of her cat.

3. endeavor- An endeavor is a serious effort or attempt to do something challenging.

Jackie loves adventure, so her next endeavor will be climbing a mountain.

4. entail- Entail means "to include or involve as a necessary part or result of something."

Swimming the 200-meter race in less than two minutes would entail a lot of training.

5. extensive - Something that is extensive is great in size, amount, or degree.

The map shows the city's extensive network of streets.

6. indecision - Indecision is the inability to make a choice.

My indecision about what to wear makes me late some mornings.

7. Multitude means "a large amount of objects or people."

They saw a multitude of birds nearly covering the beach.

8. tentatively - Doing something tentatively means doing it with hesitation or uncertainty.

In case the water was too cold, she tested it tentatively with her toes.