

The Northern Strategy

1. Early in 1777, General _____ presented George III with a new plan for victory.
2. The plan called for British troops to cut off _____ from the rest of the colonies.
3. Three British armies were to march on _____ from different directions.
4. The goal was for the British to take control of the _____ River and stop the flow of soldiers and supplies from _____ to Washington's army.
5. General Burgoyne would lead an army south from _____.
6. General Howe would lead a second army north to Albany from _____.
7. Meanwhile, another British army under General _____ would march east across New York from _____.

General "Gentleman Johnny" Burgoyne

The British Northern Strategy of 1777 required the coordination of three British Armies.
