

THE NEW IMPERIALISM

Topic 6.1

1. During the Industrial Revolution, the Western world was transformed. Advances in _____ and _____, _____, _____, _____ and _____ made the West more powerful than any society in history.
2. Armed with new economic and political power, Western nations set out to expand their _____.
3. Between 1870 and 1914, European nations brought much of the _____ and its _____ under their _____.
4. The growth of European industrial economies required _____ to fuel its factories.
5. _____ provided both natural resources and new markets for European _____ goods.
6. The European powers included _____, _____, _____, _____, _____, and _____.
7. During the late 1800's, the great powers of Europe had divided up almost all of _____ along with large chunks of _____.
8. By 1900, every corner of the _____ was claimed by a Western power.

In 1885, European leaders met at the infamous Berlin Conference to divide Africa and arbitrarily draw up borders that exist to this day